

Ticker

For most, the ticker ticks away
At least one hundred K per day,
Much more if straining hard at play
Or helping one to earn the pay.

Now, sometimes tickers go on strike,
And that means life can take a hike;
But most of them would never quit -
It's just that they get starved a bit.

But not to worry...not to fret...
Cardio-plumbers form the net
That catches ticker-challenged guys
And gives their tickers fresh supplies.

Just take a vein or artery
From in the chest or near the knee
And splice it in where old pipes fail...
And brand new life will thus prevail.

But then when all is thought about,
All healing is of God...no doubt...
What seems as proved empirical
Is just of God - a miracle!
